

GR 99 P 2739

Abstract

Method for conditioning a database for automatic speech processing

A neural network can be trained for synthesizing or recognizing speech with the aid of a database produced by means of the method according to the invention. The graphemes, or letters of a text can be converted into the corresponding phonemes with the aid of the trained neural network.

Figure 2

BEST AVAILABLE COPY